

How to establish yourself a good student?

geometry homework

How to establish yourself a good student?

Before you go directly to the recommendations on how to establish yourself in a higher educational institution, it is necessary to honestly answer one simple question: "Why do I need it?" Some of you believe that anywhere you need to immediately "light up" so that in the future "shining" without ceasing.

How to earn a teacher confidence?

If you declare about yourself in a new place, you will be guaranteed to pay attention to how the university taught and the new fellow students. And the attention is the thing in demand. The more you are attracting attention, the more you get vital energy. A large vital energy gives strength to large vital accomplishments. You want to be a successful person?

So, we partially answered the question: "Why do you need to establish yourself a good student." And, by the way, I did not say who I consider the "good student." Under the "good student" I mean a man (a girl or a young man) who has success in study (this is a primary demand, because you are then going to the institute), leads active social activities, helps his comrades and has some talent, Which highlights it from the crowd of other students of the university (for example, a person knows how to play the accordion or mini-football).

The only question is how you can immediately "light up" before the public. Agree, you can hardly at the very first days of stay in a new educational institution will be able to express yourself as an outstanding leader in some kind of area. Be this singing, dancing, intellectual abilities, or just leadership among people.

Leadership

The first two or three weeks I advise you to give off adaptation. You should not immediately show "all yourself good." No need for something not to arrange in the first days of presence in a new place some "show". First, only the negligence people who came to the university are not for knowledge, but just like that, to play. For them, arrange some presentation - without bread bread. And, secondly, such actions can shock other of your classmates who expected something more academic from the university, and here it is. Like in school.

If you do not want to choose a shirt-guy from the first days, then you will simply show all your talents immediately. Slowly Malegonka look at your new surrounding. Find out who is what Mounts, who is an athlete who is an intellectual, who is "middling", etc. As they say, talk the soil :)

After you find out at least in general terms, who represents, then proceed to active actions about the consolidation of the authority of a good student. How to do it - written below.